LONDON, August, 13.

Translation of a letter from Copenhagen, dated August 1.

"The sudden departure or rather narrow escape of Mr. St. Germain from Copenhagen, has proved a full revelation to our northern politicians, how deeply the French court is interested in the late political murders of this capital. St. Germain, with a false character of vast military knowledge—an old officer—of infinite experience—much distinguished in this profession—great abilities—real integrity—composed the character that became a bait to our court, was in fact the French courier that was intended by the cabinet council of Versailles to prepare the way for the late revolution, and to throw Denmark into the same abyss, contemptible state as Sweden—a mercenary ally of France, without the payment of a subsidy.—St. Germain, was supplied with unlimited funds by the French Ministry, by order of his court, (who had pawned their honour, which produced nothing; their royal jewels, which produced something more) to effect the late revolution in Denmark, had the sole guidance of that transaction. He was the Catalyst of the conspiracy.—Murder was the parole of this military assassin—and a general carnage of King, Nobility and Senators, was his mandate. The royal Dowager was not only his dupe—the object of his gallantry—the partner of his conjugal affections, but the tool of his policy. A Jesuit assisted him in his leisure hours amusement; and when his countess was invested with the order of l'union parfaite, the royal Dowager was, by this Jesuit, invested une catholique parfaite. Hypocrisy for some time veiled the change of religion in this young Belle Devote. At last our clergy have detected her bigotry, and the most melancholy consequences will ensue. Their spirit of Christianity prevented Struenssee and Brandt being massacred with the same torments as Damien; such were the orders sent from the court of politeness and humanity, to this diabolical instrument of the cursed policy of his Majesty tres chretienne. St. Germain, with all the vanity of a Frenchman, at the moment he is the wretched tool of the most arbitrary Monarch, flatters himself the enemy of Kingly government. In my next packet you shall receive the list of the French Jesuits, with the permission of the Queen Dowager, now dispersed in many towns of the Danish dominions. The Catholic religion is the sole idol of our royal Dowager."

Letters from Petersburg say, that several hundred Jews arrived there from different parts of Germany, in consequence of the encouragement given by the Empress, set out the 28th past for Astracan, a city on the confines of Asia, and within sixty miles of the Caspian sea. Their principal design is to carry on a trade in Persia and the Daghestan, by means of large barks down the Wolga, and they are to be indulged with particular privileges for several years.

Instead of being joined, he was quickly arrested and secured; as also a number of others.

Extract of a letter from a Gentleman in the East-Indies, dated Trichnapoly, Feb. 18, 1772.

"The laboratory, where they were drying powder, was the first that took fire, and immediately communicated itself to the great magazine, by which the lower part of the artillery barracks, all the storehouses, artillery park, and some adjoining houses were entirely destroyed. There is a very large breach made in the Nabob's Garden wall, and stones of a prodigious size thrown into the Palace, and other places, to a vast distance. The company has sustained a very great loss; 340,000 ball cartridges having blown up, all the gun carriages being destroyed, almost all the stands of arms, tumbrils, &c. But what is worst of all, and cannot be replaced, is, the loss of the brave fellows, one hundred and two Europeans being killed and wounded."

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in England to his Correspondent in dated Sept. 9, 1772.

"I hope before this, that the people in your province, begin to see or rather acknowledge the great tenderness and kindness, with which Governor Huchinson governs them, for it is very conspicuous to people abroad."

We hear that Sir Francis Bernard, bart. has lately had a large estate left him and his children, by a relation that lately died in England, particularly a seat in Aylebury which a few years ago was elegantly fitted up by John Wilkes, Esq;

By letters from Barbadoes, we learn that it was expected that Sir Francis Bernard would be appointed to that government.

We have advice from England, that Lieutenant Dudington, who commanded the Gaspee armed schooner that was burnt at Rhode island, is promoted to the rank of Captain, by his Majesty's express command.

Capt. Aeworth, on his passage from Liverpool, the 11th of October, lat. 40, 2. north, long. 40, 30, west, spoke the ship Grace, William Chambers, commander, bound to New York, bound to Bristol, out eighteen days all well on board.

Tuesday last arrived here Capt. Benjamin Beal, from St. Vincents in 27 days, by whom we have advice, that the troops from this place under Col. Dalsymple, also those from New-York, &c. were preparing for the expedition against the Indians on that island, who were daily burning some of the plantations of the English, and frequently skirmishing with the soldiers:—That several had been killed on both sides; but that the troops could not proceed by reason of one ship that had not arrived from New York, with part of the troops on board; some said that Governor Leybourn had not given orders to proceed: That a body of soldiers were marched to guard a narrow passage to prevent the Indians from coming from the mountains, where a large body of them were encamped: That the troops began to be sickly, Capt. Brabazon O'Hara of the 14th regiment died there, and seven or eight soldiers of that regiment.

HAMBURG, (Germany) Sept. 11. The important news from Warsaw, of a peace between Russia and the Grand Turk, is confirmed by letters from Berlin.

Copy of a letter from a gentleman in public character, to his brother in London, dated at St. Jago de Compostella, in Galicia, ten leagues from Corunna, July 16, 1772.

"At half an hour past one o'clock yesterday morning a furious tempest arose, which began at Padron, a league to the westward of this place, when we heard a terrible clap of thunder, which was succeeded by a frightful noise, accompanied by furious shower of hail stones, which immediately broke all the tiles and window glass of the houses here, inasmuch that the buildings of this place are damaged to the amount of a million and an half of royals. During the tempest there was a cloud moved northward, which lasted ten minutes in its transit, and carried a globe of fire in its center that cast out great flames, which made a continual illumination, and caused a light sufficient to have read the smallest print by; but, by good fortune, it all dissipated before it came to the ground.

"The trees remained shattered and without leaves, the fields and gardens are ruined, but we are now acquainted that all the country is destroyed from this place to Carral.

"The smallest hail stones that fell were as big as eggs, and the largest as big as oranges, and weighed a pound, and some were found that weighed a pound and an half."

Paris, August 10. Captain Trebuchet commander of a ship lately arrived in Nantes river, from St. Domingo, met with a very extraordinary event in his passage. The 16th day after he set sail, about 11 o'clock at night, he felt a great shock, and the whole crew imagined the ship had struck upon a rock; they immediately set the pumps to work, finding a great deal of water in her hold, and were all very much alarmed. When the day appeared, they found a monstrous fish, 30 or 40 feet long, fastened to the ship, and endeavoured by every means to get it off, but to no purpose. The Capt therefore made up to a ship, about three leagues distant, which happened to be an English ship, commanded by Captain Smith, and with his assistance they at last cut away this monstrous fish; but, it was then so much cut and disfigured, that it was impossible to make out what it was, and they were afraid to send down the divers to examine the damage done to the ship, for fear they should become a prey to these voracious animals. The next day they examined the ship, and found her pierced in 2 places, about 4 feet above the keel, by a kind of horn, which had made an orifice of three inches in diameter. They were obliged to pump night and day, and the English ship kept in company, in order to give any assistance that might be necessary.

St. JOHN'S (in Antigua) October 7.

We hear from St. Vincents, that on Monday night last, the Carraibs burnt the works and dwelling house of Andrew Bruce, Esq; and on Wednesday following burnt the dwelling house and offices of John Le Crow, Esq; they also took a detached party of the 13d regiment, consisting of a corporal and four men, whom they killed. A scouting party of Carraibs some time before this had nearly fell in with and taken General Leyborne prisoner.

On Thursday morning last, one of the transports arrived at St. Vincents with a party of the 31st regiment from St. Augustine in West Florida, and the rest are hourly expected; so that a general attack on these desperadoes may be every day looked for.

The militia here are under the greatest hardships on account of the fatigue of their military duty.

S O U T H C A R O L I N A.

IN THE COMMONS HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY, The 30th of October, 1772.

ORDERED, that the REPORT of the COMMITTEE on GRIEVANCES, as agreed to by the House this Day, be printed and made public.

By Order of the House,

THOMAS FARR, jun. Clerk.

THE COMMITTEE ON GRIEVANCES, REPORT,

THAT they have considered the several matters referred to them, the 22d and 24th instant, by the house; and, though the committee are of opinion, that the Governor's calling the Assembly to Beaufort, keeping them there three days, without permitting them to do any business, and proroguing them on the very day that, by law, was the last that the General Assembly could be discontinued, were such measures as call for the utmost resentment of this house, and would well justify their coming immediately to a resolution to do no business with his Excellency, until he had given them satisfaction in the premises; yet, as the people have been long deprived of the benefit of representation, and his Majesty's service and the interest of the colony, require the immediate sitting and proceeding of the General Assembly on the arduous affairs of our country; the committee, therefore, recommend, that the house do not carry matters to that extremity, but that they enter into the following resolutions, viz.

Resolved, That as this house did not exist when his Excellency formed his plan of calling the General Assembly to Beaufort, his Excellency's proceeding seems to be founded upon his ill will to the body of the freemen of this province, inasmuch as he thereby shewed his purpose of injuring and affronting whomsoever the freeholders of the colony should choose to represent them.

Resolved, That his Excellency's calling the General Assembly to Beaufort, a place very distant from Charles-town where such Assemblies have always been held (except when malignant and contagious disorders rage therein) where all the public offices and records are kept, at a time highly dangerous to the health and inconvenient to the private affairs of the members, was a most unprecedented oppression, and an unwarrantable abuse of a royal prerogative which hath never been questioned by the people of this colony.

Resolved, That the Governor's keeping at Beaufort, the fullest house that ever met at the beginning of any session, three days, before he would receive them with their Speaker, and then immediately proroguing them, was adding insult to injury, and plainly manifested his contempt of the people's Representatives.

Resolved, That his Excellency's proroguing the General Assembly, without suffering them to sit one moment as a legislative Body, is at least an Evasion, if not a direct violation, of the election law, which enacts, That the sitting and holding of General Assemblies shall not be discontinued or intermitted above six months; that time being intirely expired when his Excellency prorogued the house.

Your committee recommend, That the Agent be ordered to make the strongest representations to his Majesty, of the arbitrary and oppressive proceedings of the Governor, and to use his utmost endeavours to procure the removal of his Excellency from this government, or such other marks of his Majesty's royal displeasure, as may prevent Governors for the future from thus oppressing the people, by abusing those prerogatives which were intended for their benefit.

AND, as his Excellency's speech at Beaufort, seems wholly calculated to throw the blame of all the inconveniences which the publick labours under, upon former Houses of Assembly, and his charges have been sufficiently confuted by them; it is unnecessary to have their conduct vindicated by the house.

C H A R L E S T O W N, November 2.

On Wednesday last the Honourable Peter Maignault, Esq; resigned his seat as speaker of the Honourable the Commons House of Assembly of this province, and received the unanimous thanks of the house for his long and faithful services. The members having acquainted the Governor of the speaker's resignation, were desired by his Excellency to proceed immediately to the choice of another speaker, when they unanimously chose the Honourable Rawlins Lowndes, Esq; and presented him to his Excellency the Governor, who was pleased to approve of their choice. On Thursday

New rice is expected at market this week: The present is thought to be largest crop of that grain ever made in this province.

We hear from the West Indies, that the operations against the black Charaibs of St. Vincent are commenced. Being amply provided with arms and Ammunition, they have killed several of his Majesty's subjects in the Island, and have cut off the crews of two or three vessels that were unfortunately becalmed where they could attack them in their canoes: Sixteen of them have been made Prisoners in a skirmish they had with a detachment of the King's troops

ANNAPOLIS November 12.
Yesterday morning about eight o'clock, Captain William Dunlop, on board a schooner-flat bound from Baltimore to the Eastern Shore, being seized as is supposed with a frenzy, leaped overboard near Greenbury's point, with his clothes and boots on, and was drowned.

BOSTON, November 9.
There is a letter in this Town from a gentleman of distinction, in London, dated August 12th, which says that Gov. H— had orders long ago to bring our General Assembly to Boston, with as good a grace as he could, but that he had at length brought them without any grace at all.
To be sure with no better grace than the Governor of South Carolina has acted with, who, after having had the Satisfaction of tramping the members of that Assembly seventy-five miles from its stated place for his Majesty's service; we hear immediately after making a speech to them, ordered them for his Majesty's service on another tramp to Charles-Town.

"The King of France with twenty thousand men, Went up the hill and then came down again." Why could not that Assembly have deliberated on the important matters referred to in the speech at Charles-Town, on the tenth as well as the twenty second of October, to which time they were prorogued? Who would covet to be a Governor in Leading Strings! Risum tenentis amici!

NEWPORT, November 9.
Mr. Southwick,
I observed a proclamation by Governor Hutchinson, in the last Boston papers, appointing Thursday the 3d day of December next, for a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God, in which there is not a single syllable about privileges, either civil or religious! Whereupon I would humbly ask his Excellency, whether the omission of civil and religious privileges is not a tacit confession, that he either has no regard for those privileges, or that (which is more probable) he is an enemy to the liberties and privileges of his country? And whether he has not really sold, as far as was in his power, his own and his country's birthright for what is, intrinsically, of much less value than a single mess of pottage? How shocking! That the love of that bubble honour, and the meaner love of pelf, should convert the once honest man into one of the basest of God's creation; a mere hypocritical tool, of blind, arbitrary power!

PLAIN TRUTH.
Narraganset, October 20, 1772.
Mr. Southwick,
S I R,
You are desired by many of your friends to insert, in your next Monday's paper, the following paragraphs.

Sunday the eighteenth instant, failed from hence, on a cruise, his Majesty's ship Swan, James Ayl-cough, Esq; commander.

We therefore cannot help expressing ourselves in a friendly manner, regretting much the absence of so worthy a neighbour, whose humanity and benevolence has been extended to many poor people here; but done in such a private, modest, good-natured, Christian-like manner, that we really should be ungrateful, were we to omit acknowledging it in your paper; and we have also experienced many civilities from his worthy officers, and joyful ship's company.

We must further beg leave to observe to the public, as it is but just, that this worthy commander, on his first arrival at Rhode-Island, observed a deep loaded merchant sloop, laden with salt, the property of Mr. Clark, coming into the harbour, which he thought in danger of going on shore, on Brenton's side, it being quite calm, and a great swell throwing her near the rocks, on which he ordered all his boats to her assistance, with all expedition possible, by which means the sloop was saved and the merchant's interest; this generous, humane and open hearted behaviour was remarked by numbers of spectators, and by the merchant himself, who, afterwards made the boat's crew a genteel present for their willingness and activity, in saving his sloop, &c.

Query, Whether this humane behaviour is not more becoming the character of a gentleman and an officer, and more pleasing to the world, than the arbitrary, despotic behaviour of a late commander? who threatened to fire on your town and fort, and treated your Governor with all the contempt and disrespect imaginable, and afterwards declared openly to many people, (though not in the town, for he knew better) that he should glory in seeing your town in flames: That he would be damned if any soul from his ship should go on shore to give any assistance; but that he should rejoice to see the town in ashes; and this very man was sent here to protect you!!

Your wood boats stopped and rummaged, your trade detained, and molested, and shot fired into the very borders of your town! But little does our gracious King think of the ill behaviour of some few of his servants, who, when abroad among an unarmed people, are more imperious and haughty than the Grand Turk himself.

PHILADELPHIA, November 11.
On Saturday last KAYASHUTA, the great Seneca Chief, returned to this city from Johnson-Hall; where he has been on a visit to Sir William Johnson, of the greatest importance to the colonies.
The entertainment he received when last here, at seeing a few Electrical Experiments, has so much engaged his attention and admiration, that we are informed, his first enquiry at his return was, whether he could not have another opportunity of seeing thunder and lightning produced by human art; and we hear he is determined to attend Mr. Kianer-ley's Lectures at the College, on Thursday and Friday evenings next.

The forts, Chartres and Pitt are, by orders from England, destroyed, the Barracks levelled to the ground, and abandoned by the garrisons, who are soon expected, as they are now on their way for this city. We are assured the frontier inhabitants of this province have presented the Governor with a petition on that subject, who has referred them to General Gage, at New-York, but we fear the application is without success.

Captain Robinson, from the Bay of Honduras, informs that about the middle of September, he saw ashore on the Northern Triangles a ship and a brig, which he supposed to be a ship bound to Glasgow, and a brig for New-York.

Nov. 16. Capt. Hood, from Bristol, on the 31st ult. lat. 38, lon. 70, spoke a brig, Capt. James Jen-nery, 6 days from New-York bound to Antigua; Captain Green from Providence, failed in Company with the schooner Snuckey from Philadelphia for Boston, and parted with her on the 1st instant, in lat. 27, 50, lon. 20.

NEW-YORK, November 19.
Mr. Holt is requested to insert the inclosed Paragraph the ensuing Thursday and he will oblige a constant Reader of his entertaining Paper.

ON Monday last the two Companies of his Excellency the Governor's Guards, commanded by the Lieutenant Colonels, JOHN HARRIS CRU-GER and WILLIAM WALTON, appeared in the Fields, being the last Time of their Appearance previous to the General Review. They were dressed in a very handsome Uniform, and by a steady Attention and Obedience of Command, Alertness in going through the Manual Exercise, and Evolutions, with Regularity and Exactness, gained the Applause of a Number of Spectators there assembled—They afterwards marched through the City, and by their elegant and martial Appearance, and their whole Behaviour, obtained the Approbation of their Officers, and gave general Satisfaction, which was expressed by the Countenance and Gestures of the Beholders, especially the Ladies, who honoured them with particular Notice, and Looks of Complacence, extremely pleasing to those by whom they were received. The Evening was spent with Festivity at Mr.
Hull's Tavern, where a suitable Entertainment was provided.

Capt. Leslie is arrived at Philadelphia from Bristol, which Place he left the 12th of September in Company with the New-York Captain Watson, for this Port; the Grace, Captain Young, was to sail from thence for this Place in 4 or 5 Days after him.

Capt. Offat, in 25 Days from Pensacola, informs us. That the Inhabitants and Garrison of that Place, were in general very healthy; that Capt.
Chadwick of the 16th Regiment now in Garrison there, was lately married to Miss Chester, the Governor's Daughter, and was gone to England.

The Warwick, Captain Duffell, from this Port, is arrived at Lisbon.

Last Tuesday Evening about a Quarter before Nine, departed this Life at the House of Mrs. Pine, Doctor Charles Anthony Wigner, in the fifty sixth Year of his Age. His Residence was in Newport, in the Colony of Rhode-Island, from whence, Fifteen Days before, he arrived in this City, and by Inoculation, took the Small Pox, of which Disorder he died.

It is very immaterial to the Dead, in what Estimation their Memory is held by the Living, yet Gratitude to the Deceased, with whom, in Life, I was well acquainted, and Respect to his absent Friends, excite me to exhibit, in this Way, the Outlines of a worthy Character. In domestic Life he enjoyed that Satisfaction, which is the genuine Offspring of indulgent Affection and prudent Oeconomy. As a Neighbour, Charity, that Queen of Virtues, Benevolence and a pacific Disposition, which is connected with the evangeilic Benediction, ever inspired his Breast. As a Member of Society, he considered the Publick Good, from which results private Happiness, as the grand Object of social Connection; and, of Consequence, possessed himself; a Divine Philanthropy. To enjoy the sweets of Friendship was his chief Delight; conscious that the heavenly Plant grows in few Breasts, he was cautious of choosng; but when he once professed the Friend, he was warm, constant and sincere.

As a Scholar, his literary Knowledge was general; but, in Medical and Chirurgical Arts, which he professed and practised for many Years, he shone with superior Lustre. Frequent were the Consultations he had with other Gentlemen of the same Faculty, in the Place where he lived. He attended to their Opinions with Calmness, deliberated with Candour, but, would never relinquish his own Judgment, without full Conviction. His numerous Patients must hear with the deepest Regret, the unwelcome News of his Death. But Oh! the thrillling Pangs that must wring the troubled Breast of an affectionate Wife and tender Offspring. Anticipate oh my Soul, the sympathetic Grief, and let the Streams flow before the Fountain is opened!
Actuated by that noble Philosophy which dwells in the cool Retreats of Reason, he met his gloomy Fate with Serenity and Fortitude, launching without a Struggle, into the boundless Prospect of Immortality.

A Friend to the Deceased.
[The foregoing Account (copied from another paper) is here inserted without any personal Knowledge of the Deceased, or Solicitation from his Friends. But his having a Friend capable of drawing such a Character, is a proof that it is a just one, and ought to be had in Remembrance.]

On Monday Evening last, an Ox which a Butcher was going to kill, at the Slaughter House near the Fresh Water, after receiving a Stroke broke loose, and being in a Fury, before he could be secured, we hear, killed a Child and a Dog, and very much hurt a Tea Water Man, who not seeing him, was tossed over his Head, and lay senseless till the next Morning, when he remembered nothing of the Matter. His Face is much bruised, but his Life and Limbs are safe.

Mr. HOLT,

ON CONVERSATION.

SOCIAL converse is a pleasure Much esteem'd by Men of Parts, It unlocks all Wisdom's Treasure, And improves the noblest Hearts.
Through the pleasing Maze of it, Each communicates his Mind,
Now indulging sprightly Wit, Now to graver Themes confin'd.
Slander, Envy, proud Conceit And Affectation are its Foes; Souls ennobled are too great To be susceptible of those.
But Candour, Honesty and Truth, And Friendship free from all Disguise, (The Ornaments of Age and Youth) Possess the Bosom of the Wise.
With all these blooming Virtues crown'd,
And Learning's fairest Daughter Science, They Joy diffuse and spread around,
And charm the Heart with Eloquence: May Heav'n indulgent to me give,
To spend with such each cheerful Hour, Then happy, happy shall I live Regardless of blind Fortune's Pow'r.

BOSTON, November 2.

On Friday the Town met according to Adjournment, and the Committee which had been appointed to wait on the Governor, reported from his Excellency the following Answer to their Message, viz.

GENTLEMEN.

It is by no means proper for me to lay before the inhabitants of any town whatsoever, in consequence of their votes and proceedings in a town-meeting, any part of my correspondence as Governor of the province, or to acquaint them whether I have or have not received any advices relating to the public affairs of the government. This reason alone, if your address to me had been in other respects unexceptionable, would have been sufficient to refrain me from complying with your desire.

I shall always be ready to gratify the inhabitants of the town of Boston, upon every regular application to me on business of public concernment to the towns as far as I shall have it in my power consistent with Fidelity to the trust which his Majesty has reposed in me.

T. HUTCHINSON.

Province House 30th October, 1772.

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Boston in Town-Meeting assembled, at Faneuil Hall.

The foregoing answer being read, it was moved that a committee be appointed to prepare a humble petition to the Governor, praying that he would be pleased to order a session of the General Assembly at the time to which it now stands prorogued; and Mr. Otis, Mr. Adams, and Mr. Cushing, were appointed accordingly. Who reported a draft; which being read, it was voted that the same gentlemen who had before carried the message of the town, wait on his Excellency with the following petition, viz.

To his Excellency the Governor of the Province. The PETITION of the Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the Town of Boston, legally assembled, by adjournment in Faneuil Hall, on Friday October 30 1772.

Humbly sheweth,

THAT your petitioners are still greatly alarmed at the report which has been prevalent of late, viz. That stipends are affixed to the offices of the judges of the Superior Court of Judicature of this province, by order of the Crown, for their support.

Such establishment is contrary, not only to the plain and obvious sense of the charter of this province, but also to some of the fundamental principles of the common law; to the benefit of which, all British Subjects, wherever dispersed throughout the British Empire, are indubitably entitled.

Such a jealousy, have the subjects of England for their rights, liberties, and privileges, and so tender a regard has been shown to them by his Majesty, that notwithstanding the provision made at the revolution, that the judges of the King's Superior Courts of law there, should hold their commissions, not at pleasure, but during good behaviour; and since that time for their support, his Majesty among other the first acts of his reign, was graciously pleased to recommend it to parliament, and an act passed, that their commissions should not cease at the demise of the King; whereby every thing possible in human wisdom seems to have been done, to establish an impartiality in their decisions, not only between subject and subject, but between the Crown and the subject. — Of how much greater importance must it be to preserve from the least supposable bias, the judges of a court, invested by the laws of this province, which have been approved of by his Majesty, with powers as fully and amply to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as the courts of King's Bench, Common Pleas and Exchequer, within his Majesty's kingdom of England have, or ought to have.

Your Excellency will allow your petitioners, with due submission to repeat, that this establishment appears to them pregnant with such fatal evils, as that the most distant thought of it's taking effect fills their minds with dread and horror.

These, Sir, are the sentiments and apprehensions of this Metropolis: Expressed however, with due deference to the sentiments of the province, with which your petitioners are anxiously solicitous of being made acquainted.

It is therefore their earnest and humble request, that your Excellency would be pleased to allow the General Assembly to meet at the time to which it now stands prorogued; in order, that in that constitutional Body, with whom it is to inquire into grievances and redress them, the joint Wisdom of the province may be employed, in deliberating and determining on a matter so important and alarming.

At the Adjournment on Monday Afternoon,

The Committee appointed to present a Petition to his Excellency the Governor of the Province, reported, and laid before the Town the following Reply, which his Excellency the Governor had been pleased to deliver them in Writing, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

THE Royal Charter reserves to the Governor full power and authority from time to time, as he shall judge necessary, to adjourn, prorogue and dissolve the General Assembly.

In the exercise of this power, both as to time and place, I have always been governed by a regard to his Majesty's service and to the interest of the province.

It did not appear to me necessary for those purposes that the Assembly should meet at the time to which it now stands prorogued, and, before I was informed of your address, I had determined to prorogue it to a further time.

The reasons which you have advanced have not altered my opinion.

If, notwithstanding, in compliance with your petition, I should alter my determination and meet the Assembly, contrary to my own judgment, at such time as you judge necessary, I should in effect, yield to you the exercise of that part of the prerogative, and should be unable to justify my conduct to the King.

There would, moreover, be danger of encouraging the inhabitants of the other towns in the province to assemble, from time to time, in order to consider of the necessity or expediency of a session of the General Assembly, or to debate and transact other matters which the law that authorizes towns to assemble does not make the business of a town meeting.

Province House,

T. HUTCHINSON.

Nov. 2. 1772.

To the inhabitants of the town of Boston, in town meeting assembled at Faneuil Hall.

This reply having been read several times and duly considered; it was moved, and the question accordingly put, — Whether the same be satisfactory to the town, which passed in the negative, nem. con.

And thereupon resolved, as the opinion of the inhabitants of this town. That they have ever had, and ought to have, a right to petition to the King or his Representative for the redress of such grievances as they feel, or for preventing of such as they have reason to apprehend, and to communicate their sentiments to other towns. It was then moved, That a committee of correspondence be appointed to consist of twenty one persons, to state the rights of the colonists, and of this province in particular, as men, as Christians, and as subjects; to communicate and publish the same to the several towns in this province, and to the world, as the sense of this town, with the infringements and violations thereof, that have been, or from time to time may be made. — Also, requesting of each town a free communication of their sentiments on this subject. And the question being accordingly put; it passed in the affirmative Nem. Con.

A Committee of twenty one persons was then appointed for the purposes aforesaid, of which the hon. James Otis, Esq; is Chair-man; and they were desired to report to the town as soon as may be.

Attest, WILLIAM COOPER, Town-Clerk.

On the 3d instant the Governor issued a proclamation proroguing the Great and General Court (the General Assembly) till the 6th day of January next, then to meet at Boston.

Mr. SKELTON remarks,

That in August 1771, Mr. James Clarke, a native of the county of Middlesex, died in this township, aged 80.

That there is now living in the township a negroe woman; aged 108.

That Windsor is a small township, being, on the North bounds, about five miles wide, from north to South, about 14 miles in length, terminating in a point on Monmouth line, in the whole about seven miles square. The several Farms occupied contain about 29,000 acres of land, great part of which has been settled since the year 1733.

Mr. Skelton, though one of the most intelligent men in the county, assured the Governor, that he did not imagine there were so many people, by 500, in the township, as he found on taking their numbers. And that about the year 1773 there were not above 40 farms in the township, and now there are near 300.

It is also to be noted, that the New-Jersey college is within the township of Windsor, in which college there are 3 Tutors, 1 Master of the grammar school, 85 Students, and 45 grammar scholars, total 134, not included in the foregoing list.

An anonymous correspondent who dates his letter in East New-Jersey, has sent money to pay for an advertisement, signifying his apprehensions, of a conspiracy among the Negroes, which he supposes has been long in agitation, to set themselves free: He grounds this conjecture on speeches that he has heard, were made by two Negroes, one lately; the other about a year ago, viz. — "That it was not necessary that they should endeavour to please their masters, for that they should not have any masters long." He therefore hopes all the Colonies will take proper measures for their security, and particularly, that they will put in execution the laws which prohibit Negroes, who are become vastly numerous, from meeting together in companies. And tho' he has 7 of his own, he prays that the King and parliament would make a law, to send all Negroes back to their own country, at the expense of their owners; he desires, that this caution may not seem to any, as coming from one that mischiefs.

river, and is in a good neighbourhood; said farm contains about thirty-one acres, mostly good rich land. There are on said place a good stone dwelling house, barn, and other out-houses, as also several trees, which bear the best of fruit, of different kinds: The land lies extremely convenient for the New-York market, and can with some improvement be made a delightful place for a Gentleman's country seat. It will be sold in whole or in part, together with about 5 or 6 acres of good salt meadow, lying about half a mile from the premises. For further particulars, inquire of Isaac Sebring, living on the premises (who will give an indisputable title for the same) or of Theodorius Van Wyck, and Cornelius Sebring, at New-York.

MACHINE to dress FLOUR.

THE King has been pleased to grant unto JOHN MILNE of Manchester, his royal letters patent; for all his colonies in America, &c. for the sole making and vending his new invented machines, for the dressing the flour of wheat, &c. which machines are found to be of great utility by all persons who have them in use; they not only make the flour look better, but also make it use better, as they make it more lively, and will dispatch three times as much business in the same time, as the common method of bolting with cloths, and they will do that business at one operation, which, to be done with cloths, requires several, for they will dress fine flour, two seconds and three seconds, and clean the bran at one operation; or they may make two sorts, or only one sort of flour, by moving the partitions within the box, just as the person pleases who attends it; and considering their duration, are much cheaper than cloths. Also, his new invented machines for cleaning wheat, barley, &c. which takes out seeds, dust, &c. and will break and destroy smut balls, and give a brightness and lustre to the grain.

The said machines are to be sold by JOHN MILNE, and Co. at their house in Manchester; or by applying to James Milne, (son of the said John Milne) who is now at Mr. Carleton's, near the Fort, in New-York.

Just imported in the last vessels from ENGLAND, A fresh COLLECTION of the above mentioned

MACHINES.

To the PUBLICK.

HAVING had an experience of Mr. Milne's new invented patent machines, for bolting flour and cleaning wheat, at my mill, where they are now to be seen at work, at Long-Island—I think it my duty to declare, that they are a curious, expeditious and elegant contrivance, and what, in my opinion, will answer every purpose for which they are designed, and likewise be of great service to the publick.

JACOB SEBRING, Junr.

To the PUBLICK.

I think it incumbent on me, for the good of the community, and particularly of those who are manufacturers of flour, to declare, that upon trial, I have found Mr. Milne's machine answer the purpose of bolting, for which they are intended; infinitely better than the old method of doing it with cloths, as they really bolt three times as quick without the least exaggeration, and are a very ingenious contrivance.
